Robertson Fellowship Application

In partnership with the Robertson Foundation For Government (RFFG), MSPP will name four Robertson Fellows annually. These incoming students must be enrolled in the two year MPP program and have a commitment to a career in the Federal Government in foreign policy, national security and/or international affairs. Robertson Fellows will also participate in a Robertson Internship in their second year of study (summer, fall or both). Fellows will receive full tuition, cost of living stipend and summer internship assistance. Selected fellows are required to work for the federal government for three of their initial seven years after graduation and must demonstrate proficiency in a foreign language at time of graduation.
