Conferences, Workshops, and Presentations

In my various appointed positions (Secretary, Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene; assistant secretary for management at both HHS and the VA, and as the staff director for the Labor-HHS Subcommittee of the House Appropriations Committee) I made numerous presentations. These included academic settings (Graduations and seminars), various interest groups and trade associations, professional associations, governmental advisory boards and individual organizations. These presentations dealt with a broad range of topics ranging from updates on current legislation or initiatives, to health policy, to governmental management and finance. Also on numerous occasions, I testified before both Congressional and State Legislative committees, again on a broad range of health policy and governmental management and finance issues. The more recent programs I have participated in or made presentations include:

Association for Budgeting and Financial Management, Annual Conference, A modest Proposal, Apologies to Jonathan Swift (Smaller proposed federal budget reforms) 2017

American Association of Budget and Program Analysis/MITRE/George Mason University, DATA Act Simulation (Judge) 2017
